

Marine Fossils on Mountain Tops Around the World

On a side note: I had the pleasure of doing some trekking in the Canadian Rockies this past summer, and saw some interesting examples of a sea floor, shells, and trochlobites at the top of a few mountains.

This is a stone with ripples made while underwater.

Fossils I found on the tops of several mountains.

